chorus

i think you've got your fools mixed up you must think i'm somebody else i'm not the same fool you knew that couldn't help hissself and followed you around like a dog strung on a chain and wagged his cute little tail whenever you call his name but baby that will be no more remember when you walked out that door i was on my knees i said "now baby please" you just looked at me and said "no score" and you said its no joke and maybe one day you'll be back again

well, baby i got lucky again i made myself a million tens and another thing i want to say i found myself another friend chorus till fade

think you've got your fools mixed up must think im somebody else
