Good and evil
heaven and hell drifting apart
but meaning well
its a matter of life and death burn cold to find a rest

the scars, the scratches i confess i burned the bridges the bruises, the pains cant wish them away gotta keep me alive in this constanct decay its better to burn cold than to fade away you have seen me trying (trying) i was so close to fail you have heard me lieing (lieing) i was only lieing in despair you will never witness my last breath cause this is a survivors heart it will blow up in your face
