Reality slapped me in the face got to give up my dreams by now reality was like a kick in the teeth cant afford to loose up for now when will i realize truth hits you every fucking day evil is actually a part of me.

my mind is spilling excuses as my thoughts run down the drain my body is a constant refusal to the things that you cannot repair time to wake the bastard in me time for you to see what i am able to be
