Well it's been more than a year
Since I lived by the sea,
And though we both have been moving
You came back to me.
And I remember the old signs
We threw off the pier,
They've been burning for god knows,
They soon disappear

Take one day of my lifestyle
Passing ghosts in the street,
I chase them away with alcohol
But they don't get drunk.

The ghosts around your city
Have all got my name,
I wondered how I'm glowing,
I wondered why I'm glowing,
I wondered how I'm glowing,
I wondered why I'm going.
