Oh no, why are you always complaining?
Burning bright but you're bone tired
And fading out

Better to watch you hoist the above
Always fails to keep the rain out
Could it be there's not me

But it's your way of taking it out
Your way of taking it out
And I swear I won't walk out
Or taking the easy way out

Oh no, why are you always the same?
Burning bright but you're bone tired
And there's no doubt
You're climbing up the loneliest

Hoist a flag that says surrender
Could it be there's no need
To climb back down

Put back what you've taken out
Put back what you're taken out
And I swear I won't walk out
Or take the easy way out

I swear you're taking it out
Taking it back all right
I swear I won't walk out
Or take the easy way out
