I guess you'll find a reason to walk out on me
I guess in time we'll all return to the scene
Awake the old dog in me

Our love was blind, a love unpretentious and free
Our love was blind, but now my love's leaving me
Today or tonight you will see

I've got a hopeless memory
That you'll remember me
Do not waste your sympathy
It all runs off of me

Though the wind blows you've drawn its call from my sins
God knows rainbows but you seem only too pale
A little or nothing prevails

I've got a timeless melody
That I sing out of key
Do not waste your energy
It all runs off of
Me, and you, and everybody

Me, and you, and everybody
Me, and you, and everybody
Me, and you, and everybody

Someday you'll say, "I wish you were here in my arms"
Till then I'll pray that you'll submit to my charms
Always keep safe from harm
Always keep safe from harm

I've got a loveless melody
So please remember me
Do not waste your sympathy
It all runs off of
Me, and you, and everybody

Me, and you, and everybody
Me, and you, and everybody
Me, and you, and everybody

Me, and you, and everybody
Me, and you, and everybody
