Take me away from here
Up where the air is clear
And there's nothing to do
And nothing to say

You say all men are good
Well I would be if I could
But there's nothing to see
So don't get in my way

So sit and talk some more
If you want I'll give you all
But they don't even think
They'll just take it away

Why do you bother
If you see the world that way?
Why does it matter
If you see the world that way?
Why do you bother?

Nothing left to brave
Nobody's listening
Well you gotta believe
That it's all just a game

So take me away from here
And take me away from fear
And take me away
Things ain't just the same

Why do you bother
If you see the world that way?
Why does it matter
If you see the world that way?

Why do you bother
If you see the world that way?
Why do you bother?

Got a feeling that I should be leaving
Got a notion to stay

There's a feeling that just won't turn you away

Do I turn the lights out
And dare to take a step outside
Honey, all that we've got
Is the night and the day

Why do you bother
If you see the world that way?
Why does it matter
If you see the world that way?

Why do you bother
If you see the world that way?
