

Gone 'Til November "Pretending"

The stars are out
But you run inside to take
Shelter from a storm
That's gone
Don't know where you belong
And when the rain
Decides to shine a new sun
And glisten all around
Where will you be found

'Cause
You can run
You can hide
And pretend that you found love on the outside
I am done pretending
You can turn me away
And imagine that I'll never say
I am done pretending

A part of you
Is anchored to a sinking ship
But you're smiling while you drown
You don't even crack a frown
'Cause I know looking back
With a clearer vision
Nothing I say
Has ever mattered anyway

'Cause
You can run
You can hide
And pretend that you found love on the outside
I am done pretending
You can turn me away
And imagine that I'll never say
I am done pretending

Where do you go when you're scared
Just let loose and breathe the air
I'll be with you anywhere
Don't pretend that you don't care
Stop pretending you don't care
