I've got a secret fascination
Maybe that's not right
Just by pure imagination
I wished you here tonight
Daydream, elevation
Only a charade
Cause I got my finger on the trigger
And my neck out on the blade

You're so far away from here

Tick tock the candles start their meltdown
Shadows at the scene
I like the way your wear your body
Doesn't mean that I'm obscene
Dream now no consequences
I'm already gone
I feel no guilt, I just see passion

And it always turns me on

You're so far away from here

One time's too much, I told you
You can't buy it all
And it's not that easy to forget me, is it

Was it easier to leave me than to love me
Was it easier to say you just don't care
Was it all a plot that you made up
Cause it got too hard, it got too tough
And it's not that easy to forget me, is it now

(repeat)
