'Lullaby' by Brian Benham

Your troubled heart emotions show me
That there's so much more to you
Lift your fallen smile, make you mine, that's what I'll do
It's all up to you, if this is what you choose Everything is so locked up so that no one can get close to you
Spin my world for me, I'd revolve around you

That's cause you're alright, and everything is fine
No reason in those reasons that you found to cry
You're OK, never leave you alone this way and I
I'd sing a song to you, and it goes like
A sweet sweet lullaby

I stumbled through the motions
Finding oceans at the sight of you
We're miles apart and I feel right next to you
This foreign distance will make us more persistent they say

That's cause you're alright, and everything is fine
No reason in those reasons that you found to cry
You're OK, never leave you alone this way and I
I'd sing a song to you, and it goes like
A sweet sweet lullaby, A little song to make you mine
Come on baby don't be shy, you know i'll stay with you
Tonight let's go

You know i'd risk it all to see us fall
To let go of the ghost when conversation comes to call
The past has passed, here's my chance at last
It's cause this love for you is something true
Baby it'll never pass

That's cause you're alright, and everything is fine
No reason in those reasons that you found to cry
You're OK, never leave you alone this way and I
I'd sing a song to you, and it goes like
A sweet sweet lullaby, A little song to make you mine
Come on baby don't be shy, you know i'll stay with you

Tonight let's go

Never leave you alone this way
I would risk it all to stay my lullaby love
Never leave you alone this way
I'd risk it all to stay in love
