'Mess' by Brian Benham

Tell me something I will never forget
Tell me something that I won't let escape my head
Like when you loved me

Speak now of times incomplete
Of all that you have and all that you need
And I will not be afraid to fall

Fall into the brighter side
Of all of this oh what a mess
But don't go tell me twice
Just fall to the brighter side

You whisper little lies in my ear
Softly say how much you're needing me near
Oh yeah well lovely, you're loving me

Speak now of times incomplete
Of all that you have and all that you need
And I will not be afraid to fall
Fall into the brighter side
Of all of this oh what a mess
But don't go tell me twice
Just fall to the brighter side

Every time that you run
You're running farther away
From the one that was so complete
Every time that you stand a little farther away
From the one that was all you needed

So fall into the brighter side
Of all of this oh what a mess
But don't go tell me twice
Just fall to the brighter side

Fall into the brighter side
Of all of this oh what a mess
But don't go tell me twice
Just fall to the brighter side
