"Simple Things"

You need not, what I thought you needed
No material will make you complete
It is the simple things not the diamonds or rings
That will keep you coming right back to me

Keep it simple keep the love in motion
I'm not gonna run through my mind
Keep it simple keep the love afloat
We won't be wasting our time

You need not, what I thought you needed
No material will make you complete
It is the simple things not the diamonds or rings
That will keep you coming right back to me

You need not, what I thought you needed
No material will make you complete
It is the simple things not the diamonds or rings
That will keep you coming right back to me
