Robby: I thought about you just last Saturday
John: My voice got cracked I didn't know what to say
Robby: Down in the shade or maybe in the sun
John: And if you need it I think I got one

John: Where are you
Robby: And what's on your mind?
John: Where are you
Robby: Am I wasting my time?
John: Where are you
Robby: And what's on you mind?
Both: I just want to know if I'm wasting my time

John: I snuck out of work to see her smile
Robby: I'll hold her hostage for a little while
John: I wrote a letter I thought I'd let you know
Robby: I'm right behind you any time you go

John: Where are you
Robby: And what's on your mind?
John: Where are you
Robby: Am I wasting my time?
John: Where are you
Robby: And what's on you mind?
Both: I just want to know if I'm wasting my time

Robby: My mind got busy around 3 a.m. or so
John: Crawled in you room through the back window
Robby: Hoped when you woke up you wouldn't be too mad
John: I hope I never wake up your old man

John: Where are you
Robby: And what's on your mind?
John: Where are you
Robby: Am I wasting my time?
John: Where are you
Robby: And what's on you mind?
Both: I just want to know if I'm wasting my time
