All I waited for
Was A chance to make you understand Tell you these forgotten truths you never thought were real
And if the world should turn it's back
You know that I'm still here

Time won't ever steal my soul
And we're not broken
So please come home

Morning comes and life moves on
But when it changed
You didn't know where you belonged
I'll still catch you when you fall from a past that steals your sleep
And scrawl these words upon your wall
Remind you to believe

Time won't ever steal my soul
And we're not broken
So please come home
And if the world has worn you down
And I'll be waiting
So please come home

I won't let them break you down
And I won't hear the empty sounds
I'm hopelessly pretending that I know the answer Angels light the neon fires that burn so cold through your desires
And all you are is all I need to know

When the world is insane
You get used to the pain
And you don't even know what you feel
And I get like you
I'm alone and confused
But you know it's not forever

Time won't ever steal my soul
And we're not broken

So please come home
And if the world has worn you down
I'll be waiting
So please come home
