I want you now
So please don't let me down
Oh just shut your mouth
And know that you are everything to me

Can we just let go
From what we can't control
And if the world spins too fast
I'll slow it down for you

You know I love the girl
Who said that I could change the world
If only I was brave enough
To live the life in front of me
These memories are fading fast
There scattered like a broken glass
Will they be mended
Or as easily just swept away

Oh my friend this is not the end
Just look around cause this is right where you and I belong

I want you now
So please don't let me down
Oh just shut your mouth
And know that you are everything to me
Can we just let go
From what we can't control
And if the world spins too fast
I'll slow it down for you

Falling from this height
Just might break your light
Take a chance for me
The only way you see
Risk your hand into mine
Don't you leave this behind
If we lose in time
I'll slow it down for you
