Hey Dad
Where you been for so long?
Why wont you look at me?
Is there something wrong?
Do you remember me, the son you concieved?
Why wont you look at me, the son that you decived
Oh God
What did I do
To deserve this
A Man I never knew
A man I cannot miss
I gave you many chances
Many as you took
And now I stand before you
You won't even look
How can we start all over
When we never began
How can you be our father
When you aren't even a man
Why do you play these games
That are in my head
You said youd never leave me
Whatever you said
Oh God
What did I do
To deserve this
A man I never knew
A man I cannot miss
How can we start all over
When we never began
How can you be our father
When you aren't even a man

Why do you play these games
That are in my head
You said you'd never leave me
Whatever you said
Hey Dad
Hey dad
So then came kids of my owen and I was there for them
From the man I couldn't be
I didn't learn from him

Where we're at
I don't know at all
I dont even remember
the last time that he called
How can we start all over
When we never began
When you aren't even a man
Why do you play these games
That are in my head
You swore you'd never leave me
Whatever you said
Oh God
What did I do
To deserve this
A man I never knew
I man I cannot miss
How can we start all over
How can we start all over How can we start all over Dad
Hey Dad
