What could be called the true? Will be that someone that you admire or something done of ideas. had already said. Decorate ideals, like many others that there are somewhere and where do you fit? Only in there damn label. Understand that nothing makes me better than anybody, neither better than anything, I'm what i can be, sincere and positive. Try be yourself, true friends will understand you, and the ones who will say, that you are another loser, nevermind. They aren't nothing, true friends always will be by yourside, they'll be understand. Nothing makes you better than anybody, neither better than anything, be what you can be, SINCERE AND POSITIVE!
