Maybe tomorrow, the storm will blow over
The river won't overflow
Nobody knows what tomorrow will bring,
That's why we rely on hope

Oh, we'll pray for some better weather
Oh, we'll pray for some better weather

Our little house at the top of the hill
Was built with love and four tons of steel
It's pretty strong, but it can still come down
Let's hope that it never will

Oh, we'll pray for some better weather
Oh, we'll pray for some better weather

You know we always have each other
If we go, we'll go together

Oh, we'll pray for some better weather
Oh, we'll pray for some better weather

Maybe tomorrow the storm will blow over,
The river won't overflow
Nobody knows what tomorrow will bring,
That's why we rely on hope

Oh, we'll pray for some better weather
Oh, we'll pray for some better weather
Pray for some better weather
Pray for some better weather
