I was staring at her
Blue eyes
She was lying there
Naked to the world
As I say the strangest things

And she turns me on and she turns me off
And she speeds me up and she slows me down
And everybody here oh so wants her
But all I try and do is just ignore her

Everybody says the same, same things
And thinks they're just so, so original
But you just don't say the same thing

And she turns me on and she turns me off
And she speeds me up and she slows me down
And everybody here oh so wants her
But all I try and do is just ignore her
And you chews me up and she spits me out
And you talk so sweet but ignore me
And your oh so quiet just, just trying to hide it
