Grab the edge of the sky and fly turn the world upside down

It's fine, I want to fall into your eyes

It's so easy this curse makes you fall to your knees

Now you're believing that you are the monster

There's no way for me to save the damned

Dear culprit don't hold me back

I am alive

Don't wake me up

We'll be just fine

Don't wake us up

We're holding on to what's left of this world we know
(I'm right so right)

If we choose to believe then we should know how to
love

(I'm right so right)

The sea of trembling hands they sink beneath me [x2]

They will devour your heart, expose it to the world

We're holding on to what's left of this world we know
(I'm right so right)

If we choose to believe then we should know how to
love

(I'm right so right)

Leading vultures to the trail of the dead man [x2]

Sacrifice the innocents of your heart [x2]

Make sure that we still grow, with a better reputation

Sound the alarms you are wanted by all of us [x2]

All I wanted was to do better for myself [x2]

I've grown tired long ago, walking lonely miles back home so long (so long)

All I wanted was to do better for myself [x2]
