We flourish, spreading like a disease
With all the ones that fall
Our purpose is to eat everything we fucking see
They did it again, I should have planned
A better escape than this
The promise of your antidote I need, this time

Give me your name, and I'll erase you
They won't know your alive
No way for them to find out
I'll dig this grave for our secrets to rest with all our lies
And close their eyes and die

This thoughts running threw my head
Oh fuck can't understand what you've said
Before the time runs cold
I just don't want to be alone
Put a bullet to your head
Pull the trigger now you're dead
Now I have all the world to rome

Don't you release all the bullets
We have to go

Now there's a waste of this gun
So put it back in your bag

Why do you agree
This is not what to be

With this I'll tell you
About it we're safe
Just give it to me
With a sign
With a sound

What is with them again
I just buried you today
We'll set and shoot with this gun
And I'll will never enjoy
Of being just alive

Listen, I'm bout to bring it to you

Listen to the sounds
Of our beating hearts
Listen to them
One thousand beating hearts

Listen, they're falling down to the ground
To the ground
