

Goodnight Sunshine "Overboard"

Visit "Overboard" on MotoLyrics.com

Tattered and torn,
This is useless,
We are narrowed down to nothing,
Our ship will never reach the shore
The skies turn to blue we're getting closer to our destination
Then we ever knew

So throw me overboard, so throw me overboard
Someone tell me please if I'm doing good so far Set sail let's cast away until the shoreline we'll part our ways

Dressed in Sunday's best and counting on me to Be the hero of your dreams
Dedicated, infatuated you're such a mess and still I'll keep fighting till your mine
Let's hope that something else will guide us through

So throw me overboard, so throw me overboard
Someone tell me please if I'm doing good so far
Set sail let's cast away until the shoreline we'll part our
ways

(Look to the stars and hope that they can help us through the end oh)
My hair entwined in your finger tips
You pressed your love into my lips
Let the rain fall down and reveal your place
I'll be staring up at you, just looking up at you
With a smile on my face
