If you ever fall in love,
hold on to what you've got.
Reaching for the stars above
don't mean just half as much.
'Cause a love is hard to find
in a world like ours.
You'll understand it if you look around.
Love's a wild and raging sea,
sweet pain and ecstasy.
Love can be an ocean blue:
calm, deep--and all that's true.
Peace of mind and harmony
follow in the sand.
Take my hand, we've only just begun.

If you ever, etc.
[repetition with one variation:]
If you ever fall in love,
hold on to your dream.
You will see how happy life can be.
