ENGLISH TRANSLATION

Though I want you, though you want me, nothing [can]
come of it,
to the main mast [of the ship] we are tied fast.

With your arms in the air, alone, you're dancing, and you bind me and unbind me and always you trick me.

On feet drunken and without shoes in a play without an ending you are always [only] rehearsing.

Though I want you, though you want me, nothing [can]
come of it,
to the main mast [of the ship] we are tied.

With your arms raised high you are reaching for somewhere,
an invisible ribbon you are stretching to catch.
With your eyes closed you look right through me like a wide open book you are reading me
