C. Durkin / G. Cormier

She's gettin' colder by the minute and more distant by the day she says she still got feeling but that's not what people say she's not been out around the town or seeing someone new but that's just what she tells me so I don't feel so blue As I took a walk this morning just to try to ease my mind a teardrop trickled down my face as I drifted back in time you placed a ring upon my finger and gladly said "I do" it was the happiest day of my life the start of something new Now you're lyin' 'bout where you're lying and it's with somebody new you're steppin' out around the town and making me a fool my friends all tried to tell me but my ears were just to blind you're lyin' 'bout where you're lying and messin' with my mind It's true that some fall out of love as fast as they fell in and it's so easy just to walk away from a love that could have been but you know that love don't end so fast for the one that meant I do but I'll pick up the pieces and try to get over you (Chorus) 'cause you're lyin'...
