Fool yourself but don't fool me
I know what you are, no ideals but just an image
A weak disguise of your mind
A mind that is rotten, you're used to abuse

Cheating the ones that care
Your plastic face is always smiling
Pretended interest, you couldn't care less
You're not for real, I voice my disgust

Claimed intelligence, the fool you are
We're all laughing, what is it you're trying to achieve?
'Cause you can never take my pride
You won't see that day

Be false, spread rumors, talk shit
That's really your way but I can't be bothered
You make people watch their back, never face to face
They might see through your cover, your second face

Cheating the ones that care
Your plastic face is always smiling
Pretended interest, you couldn't care less
You're not for real, I voice my disgust

Claimed intelligence, the fool you are
We're all laughing, what is it you're trying to achieve?
'Cause you can never take my pride
You won't see that day

Take my hand, take my arm
I can't be bothered, take it all, you fool

Cheating the ones that care
Your plastic face is always smiling
Pretended interest, you couldn't care less
You're not for real, I voice my disgust

But one of these days
Your plastic face will start to crack
And we'll create a new world
In which shit like you is banned, I await that day
