My life finally reached a point,
Where changes needed to be made.
So I dropped down to my knees,
And I asked God for his aid.

I had money, until it all got spent,
I mistreated love until it moved on.
I've lost the good things in my life,
And I'm the reason they're all gone.

Changes will be coming since I found faith,
Love chased away all my prejudice and hate.
I have found God that's in his heaven above,
He's changed my outlook on living and love.

There's no love once you douse the flames.
All money buys is cold non-feeling things.
I saw the light, I am on the right road,
My faith is helping me to carry my load.

Changes will be coming since I found faith,
Love chased away all my prejudice and hate.
I have found God that's in his heaven above,
He's changed my outlook on living and love.

Changes will be coming since I found faith,
Love's chased away my prejudice and hate.
