"We Die in Dreams"

She casts no shadow in the streets of the dead machines
and ruined children are the angels in our dreams

And these are changes in a world she used to know
She found redemption in a past that came undone
We are all on our way to damnation
If we die in dreams we die for real

Empty faces, blind and grimm
Black hearts won't pity sin cold breath
Endless quest for sanity in demons nest
He who sees her watches her fall
Yet he's the blindest of them all
He couldn't hear he couldn't feel
The darkest call from those who bleed

And these are changes in a world she used to know
She found redemption in a past that came undone
We are all on our way to damnation
We are all marionettes in the deadly scene
We are all in the search for salvation
If we die in dreams we die for real
