lady Jane,
would we ever meet again the times we had are gonna day by day all the pain that we gave each other pays not enough to gonna make us wrong would it sell this love will lest forever standing out the crossroad once again a lot of things in love will growing slowly in progress
I know - you've got to listen to the phone Let it rain let it rain till the sun comes back again the answer is your only friend we walk this way slowly step by step we don't have to bother just believe there's a place deep inside where we've never been before I know we can be there you and me
would it sell this love will lest forever now were standing at the crossroad once again all the things in love will pay there slowly in progress

cause i know we'll be there again freedom will be there in the end hope you'll find your paradiese wish you all the best of times the faith in love and please don't cry. so let it rain let it rain
till the sun comes back again
cause I know we'll meet again freedom will be there in the end

yes I know we'll meet again we will be there until the end
'til the end.
