I've been lost and found, run out of grace
Felt the city's cold embrace, and I learned the hard way
How it feels to be lonely
I've seen perfect skies, turn into grey
Had my dreams all washed away
And I realized, what I wanted, was already mine
I'm back to where I belong
Been a long time gone, now it feels like home, yeah
You are the one
And none of us is meant to be lonely, lonely
It is strange sometimes, you're unaware
You can't break out, they hold you there
Trying to make you believe, you're somebody else Always tried to keep my head up high and memories will never die
I won't lie to myself, so here I am
I'm back to, where I belong
Been a long time gone, now it feels like home, yeah
You are the one
And none of us is meant to be lonely
b.part

I knew someday, that I would prove that they were wrong
You'd see me running back to you, back to you
I was lonely
Oh I'm back to
Where I belong
Been a long time gone, now it feels like home, yeah
You are the one
And none of us is meant to be lonely
This is
Where I belong
You're my everything, one and only dream, yeah
You are the one
'cause none of us is meant to be lonely, lonely, lonely lonely
