I can feel the rain fall down
Like tears upon my shoulders
I can feel the hard wind blow
Blow on for ever more

I can feel the gods look down
Some laugh while some are crying
I can feel the wasted tears
Cry on for ever more

Can't you see
My whole world is nothing without you
Can't you see
My whole world is nothing without you

Once in a lullaby
You brought me joy and laughter
Now that its all used up
I cry for ever more

Once in a lullaby
A paper sun was shining
Now that it's all burned up
Darkness for ever more

Can't you see
My whole world is nothing without you
Can't you see
My whole world is nothing without you

Where will I run to when I need a place to hide
Far away from New York City
Who will I turn to now that our love is dying

Can't you see
My whole world is nothing without you
Can't you see
My whole world is nothing without you

I can feel the rain fall down
Like tears upon my shoulders
I can't feel my love

She's gone forevermore
