John Spartan, you've done great things for Los Angeles. So it is with some regret that I carry out this sentence. You've been sentenced with 40 years sub-zero rehabilitation. Save it. Be well. Where the fuck do you get batteries in the future? Is there a battery store around motherfucker? Do you really long for chaos and disorder? You obsession with the 20th century effects your judgement. 3 unsanctioned life terminations. Murder. Death. Kill. 187. Simon says die. These assholes are nothing if not predictable. God I love to hate this place. You're entering the hall of violence, a representation of the primitive behavior prevalent in the late 20th century. Home sweet home
