In a crowded room on that summer night
When you fell in love,
Yeah you knew it right when you saw her
She was walking on water
She's a picture frame in a window sill
You give up trying to make time stand still
So you hold her, yeah you just hold her
All those nights you spent are gone
Do you look back
Now time goes on

Is life repeating history
Is love still a mystery
Did you end up who you thought you would become
Before 1981
Girl you ever loved
With the windows down and the stars above it all begun
Before 1981

You were young and free and you couldn't see for miles
All that life could be with the sun in her eyes
She was golden
And that's when you told her
You couldn't wait and now you know
Cause' all you want you cant let go
It should always be this way
And we can start today
And all those words you said are gone
And you look back now the time goes on

Is life repeating history
Is love still a mystery
Did you end up who you thought you would become
Before 1981
Girl you ever loved
With the windows down and the stars above it all begun
Before 1981

Oh, before 1981

In a crowded room on that summer night
When i fell in love,
Yeah i knew it right when i saw her
So don't say it's over

Is life repeating history
Is love still a mystery
Did you end up who you thought you would become
Before 1981
Girl you ever loved
Before 1981

Yeah, before 1981
Before 1981
