You made it out of that one house little town
Told yourself would let nobody slow you down
You said goodbyes cause you wanted something more
You got away with your downtown city life
You're gonna stay til your somebody' second wife
Where to begin cause you're movin' it in to the top floor
Yeah

You gotta run but you're still just passing through Those others girls they haven't heard the last from you
You don't stop cause you're settin' up shop into the next town

You make a mess and leave it all behind
And you still make it back in just the nick of time
You can stay all night iif the price is right
You let 'em come on down

Say your goodbyes
Your pacific coast eyes start to close
And I'm on the outside
But maybe it's time
Your pacific coast eyes come back home
And I'm on the outside

You made it out of that one house little town
Those other boys you kown they're gonna come around
You said goodbye, said you've never been so sure

But now you made a mess and leave it all behind
And you still make it back in just the nick of time
If you say your goodbyes and hello to blue skies
Sendin' a postcard from your pacific coast eyes

Say your goodbyes
Your pacific coast eyes start to close
And I'm on the outside
But maybe it's time
Your pacific coast eyes come back home
And I'm on the outside

Now you're everything that you wanna be
There's still so much that you don't wanna see

Say your goodbyes
Your pacific coast eyes start to close
And I'm on the outside
It's a matter of time
Your pacific coast eyes start to roam
And I'm on the outside
Say all your lies
Your pacific coast eyes start to close
And I'm on the outside of your one house little town
