There was a time

There was a place

You had a smile, on your face and everything we had is innocent

I'll go back again..

I touch your hand, the day we met

Its just somethings, you don't forget

You're standing in your dress without your shoes

Last of i remember you

If love was enough,

I'll wrap it around you

If love was enough,

to make you stay

If love was enough,

It would surround you

If love was enough,

for you..

There was a road(There was a road)

we never took (we never took) but through my eyes, we see how it looks

It was everything we know we could've been but i can't go back again

If love was enough,

I'll wrap it around you

If love was enough,
to make you stay

If love was enough,

It would surround you

If love was enough,

for you..
Its never enough for you...

So i'm giving you up....for you...

All the love in the world will never be enough.. for you..

If love was enough,

I'll wrap it around you

If love was enough,

to make you stay

and i still remember

if love was enough,

and you'll let it surround you,

but its never enough
If love was enough,

i'll wrap it all around you

If love was enough, to make you stay, you'll still be hearing me

If love was enough,

It would always surround you

If love was enough,

for you

If love was enough,

for you...
