"For Me"

Remember me, think you know my name
I never knew how to play your game.
And could you, could you cry, for me yeah
And bleed your eyes my soul to keep

I'd love to know your reasons
You keep your eyes away from me

A world of peace, where you pretend to live
I'll stay away so you don't have to think

And could you, could you cry for me yeah
And bleed your eyes, my soul to keep
I'd love to know your reasons
You keep your eyes away from me

Could you cry for me yeah
And bleed your eyes my soul to keep, oh keep
I'd love to know your reasons
Why can't you say your reasons
You keep your eyes away from me.
