Change is in the air
Breathe it in and feel it all around
It's asking you to open up your mind

Packing up my things
Drive them back to where they once belonged
I wonder if she's wondering of me
I wonder if she's gonna open her arms or turn her back on me

Oh, what a trip it's been but I've had enough now
The summer's beat, now it's fast asleep again
Winter's near and I have the fear that I know I love you
But do you love me too? Do you?

Measuring a life
And where you are is not a matter of time

There's more to me than time has let you see There's more to know so don't let it go 'cause love is lifting me

Oh, what a trip it's been but I've had enough now
The summer's beat, now it's fast asleep again
Winter's near and I have the fear that I know I love you
But do you love me too? Do you?

Oh, what a trip it's been but I've had enough now
The summer's beat, now it's fast asleep again
Winter's near and I have the fear that I know I love you
But do you love me too? Do you?
Do you?
