"Dancing Shoes"

Jumping on the high
That I'm feeling tonight
Standing by the bar
In this crowded place I've tried
To say something funny
But I'm always misunderstood
So I crash into my dancing shoes
And I try to move
Just like a lover should
But somehow
It don't feel right tonight
In a red lounge room
Where love is served with cool
I try to pick you up
But I look just like a fool
Cause you don't want
To hold my hand tonight
So I crash into my dancing shoes
And I try to move
Just like a lover should
But somehow
It don't feel right tonight
Tonight...
But somehow
It don't feel right tonight
So I crash into my dancing shoes
And I try to move
Just like a lover should
But somehow
It don't feel right tonight
