Sometimes I get angry for Feeling sorry for myself I worry myself crazy till I can catch my breath I see life as a struggle and answers hard to find and troubles weighing heavy on my mind

Chorus:
till beautiful you start smiling laugh until you cry and even if i'm trying I cant help but laughing at myself I don't know how you do it like theres nothing to it when I look up and there ain't nothing left but beautiful you sometimes when I ask you what do you stay here for I know we need each other but it seems I need you more you act like you don't hear me you don't even make a sound and I hold my breath until you turn around

Chorus

You don't even see it you swear you can't believe it but your beautiful, beautiful

sometimes I just have to pinch myself
but beautiful you, beautiful you
