Wrong to say that I am giving up
Right to say that I ain't showing up
I've got pictures at my home
And doors that transform me alone
Sunny days should leave a message on my phone
I don't think I'm gonna miss you much
And I've got dials and knobs soft to the touch

All your lectures will become

Converted into static hum
Sunny days should leave a message on my phone
Oh, to sleep, perchance to dream
To live again those joyous scenes
The laughter and the follies that
Are locked away inside my head
