Don't want to be so angry
Don't want to keep so quiet
Now it's open fire
And I can't move
Don't want to be so careful
Don't care enough to mind,
Leave me with no headroom,
To climb back down
I'll just wait for a landslide

Made up my mind
To make me whole again
I take up your time
When I'm alone

Don't want to be so anxious
Don't care to stand in line
I lay in an open fire
As you watch me burn down
And wait along the wayside

Made up my mind
To make me whole again
I take up your time
When I'm alone

I don't want to let you down
Don't care to bring this up again
But in my defense, it doesn't make sense
Why you even come around
But then over and over you lay around
And watch me go back out before the storm

Made up my mind
To make me whole again
I take up your time
I am,
To make me whole again
Take up your time
When I'm alone.
