That's the Day

Amy Grant

There are burdens that I carry every day,
Sometimes they want to make me cry.
Hopeless feelings harbored deep inside my heart,
And I find it hard to hold my head up high.
In the middle of the darkness in my life,
I find the strength to carry on.
I am holding to a promise Jesus made,
And I know it won't be long till we'll be gone.
In a while, we'll be gone,
And we won't have to cry anymore, no,
All our sorrows left behind,
And that's the day that I am waiting for.
And that's the day that I am longing for.
Oh....

If you feel there is no meaning in your life.
And it seems you've lost your way.
Listen closely to the voice that's deep inside,
And remember what the Savior has to say.
In a while, we'll be gone,
And we won't have to cry anymore, no,
All our sorrows left behind,
And that's the day that I am waiting for.
And that's the day that I am longing for.
And that's the day that I am looking for.
Oh....
Da, da da, da da, da da, da da, da da....
Da, da da, da da, da da....
