

Grant Woell "The Fade"

Visit "The Fade" on MotoLyrics.com

This is the summer, this is the moon I am marking.
These are the branches, I'm gonna watch fall.

Verse1

This is the summer, this is the moon I am marking.
These are the branches, I'm gonna watch fall.
I've found my way-out. I'm gonna hinge away, All of these tears
And kick open the door to my Past,
To steal the regrets that I've had.
To steal the regrets that I've had.

Chorus

Morning Breaks.
Morning Finds me over again.
These years we had.
O' These smiles we made...
Are now the fade.

Verse 2

This is the ending, of my favorite story.
Where I am rescued and given a name.
Yea I've been raising this flag, surrendering all I have.
(To you)
Cause I have nothing, that matches your truth.
Your Truth.

Chorus

Morning Breaks.
Morning Finds me over again.
These years we had.
These smiles we made...
Are now the fade.

Let go. Let go. The sun is slipping from my grasp. I know. Know, The stars and nights in June never last. x2

Visit Grant Woell page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.