Feeling so innocent despite
This room of jaded overtones
I said come see me if you'd like
And when you took me for a ride
You took away about all I'd assumed
And when I said it's not to be
It made a lot of sense to me
And it only makes more now
That's not to say that it's all changed
Sometimes the feelings are the same
But I guess we'll never know

A promise is no guarantee
What's said is meant to follow through
As much as you had hoped to see
These chances I would never take
Until I'd know how much we'd had at stake
And when I said it's not to be
It made a lot of sense to me
And it only makes more now
That's not to say that it's all changed
Sometimes the feelings are the same
But I guess we'll never know

Love, you said to me, is like being struck by lightning
I wonder if it ever will
Answer all your prayers and scar you for a lifetime
But then again I guess you'd never tell
And when I said it's not to be
It made a lot of sense to me
And it only makes more now
That's not to say that it's all changed
Sometimes the feelings are the same
But I guess we'll never know
