Pull the wool over your eyes acts are misunderstood lies, your intentions won't hide no matter much how good Hold back the flood
hold back the crash with the lash of deceit
no one could guess
they save up your mistakes
so they run you down on your knees What do you want to hear two, you're still feeling pride cover your acts up in fear down the truth save your hide Hold back the flood

Defenses broken down as dreams have realized an albatross -tross to drag you down to size
run you down on you knees
