Jimmy and Jenny lived together from January '84 till December '85 he was a rock and roll ladies' man she was only 19 when she died

I played in bands with Jimmy he used to get heavy from time to time I didn't like the way he treated Jenny I can still hear her cry

Don't leave me lonely
don't leave me alone

Don't leave me lonely
I can't make it on my own

Jimmy used to laugh about her those girls are all the same love them and leave them that's the name of the game

He sure could play those drums but the love game he couldn't play he was a bastard to poor Jenny and I can still hear her cry to this day
