I have seen the concrete broken in slabs all down my street

I have seen the grass wave only inside and inside

It will stay

It will stay

There are places no man can touch and these will be where I live

There are men that nothing can touch but I will not be one of them

I will stay

I will stay

Till the day of days is seen

God stays silent but the junkie stays clean

I am old though I am young short of breath and long of tongue

This is not as I once planned hardly to speak yet take a stand

And stay

And stay

Till the day of days is seen

God stays silent but the junkie stays clean

Till the day of days is seen

God stays silent but the junkie stays clean

Day of days
