On the town like a sailor on leave
I wanted no problem - did not want to grieve
All was going well but all for a fee

I'm not really sure when you came into view
But for me now this earth is less blue

The whole world stopped for eyes and hair of brown
My head was reeling my mouth made no sound
What once seemed stable now shaky ground

Well I don't know how I met up with the likes of you
But for me now this earth is less blue

The more you talk the more I want to believe
I keep looking but there's nothing up your sleeve
Your sweet lips make my heart feel so clean

Well I don't know how I met up with the likes of you
But for me now this earth is less blue
