I'm a liar and I'm a cheat
And I can't stand on my own two feet
And I know that we disagree
But if you would just listen to me

Show me where it hurts

You let me have it between the eyes
And that should come as no surprise
Cause I know that I've hurt you some
So now we know where we both come from

Show me where it hurts

Who will give in first?
Who's gonna try to stop this curse?

It seems to me there is no resolve
To this game 'round which our lives revolve
And each time you walk through my door
I ask "can we hurt each other any more? "

Show me where it hurts
