Are you wishing
Upon a star that's falling
Now I'm the one
Hearts are ringing

That you left standing here
You'll never see the little things

You'll never change me
Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something to cling to
Something for me to make it
Give me just one thing
Something to pray to

Give me just one thing
Lay before me
Same old story
And everything you've given
There's not one thing
That opens up my eyes

You'll never see the little things

You'll never change me
Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something for me to make it
Give me just one thing
Something to pray to
Something to cling to
Give me just one thing
It's only you they're wanting

Are you wishing
Right behind me
They all will dance
While I twist in the wind

You'll never see the little things
You'll never change me

Something for me to make it

Give me just one thing
Give me just one thing
Something to cling to
Something to cling to
Something to pray to

Now I can't see
It rips right through me
There'll never be

You'll never see the little things
You'll never change me

Give me just one thing

Give me just one thing
Something to pray to
